Pension Office Ousted by Commission

COUNTY BOARD GIVES QUARTERS TO RECORDER

Bar Association Wins Fight To Provide Adequate Storage for Records

WOMEN JOIN IN PLEA

Officials are Criticised for Expending Money to Aid Krinn's Bureau

A controversy that threatened to become a tempest has been averted by action of the county commissioners in granting additional space for the recorder's office.

A wall that has been built between the present office occupied by Mrs. Florence Campbell and the addition will be removed to permit access to one of the larger rooms in the new structure. The recorder's office has become one of the most-crowded in the courthouse. Volumes of records have overflowed the tiny vault available.

Recorder Gets Room

The room to be turned over to the recorder was assigned to the Old Age pension office, administered by T. D. Krinn, several months ago. Members of the Pickaway county bar association, aware of the fact that failure to provide more room for the recorder at this time would mean that the office would be confined for many years to come in a small space, went into action to obtain more room for Mrs. Campbell. Charles Gerhardt, one of the veteran members of the bar, led in the campaign for the revision of plans.

Women Enter Fray

Women of the county, headed by Mrs. Mary G. Morris, former recorder, joined in the move. Mrs. Morris informed the commissioners this week that she had petitions ready for circulation "among all the women of the county", unless the board changed the assignment. (Continued on Page Twelve.)

BEARD EPIDEMIC LICKED; BARBERS RETURN TO WORK

KANKAKEE, Ill., July 29.—(UP)—Sit-down barbers today retracted their threat to close all their shops, if necessary, until "every man in town has a beard a foot long."

Their one-day strike was so successful that there is no need to sit any more, Guy See, president of the Kankakee barbers union local, announced.

Sixty union barbers locked their shops yesterday, stepped into chairs of non-unionists, and stayed there in shifts until night. When they ran out of other conversational topics they discussed union prices—union members accused non-union members of cutting rates—and at the end of the day See announced signing of 15 new union members.

FIRST CORN TO BE CANNED IN CITY SATURDAY

The first corn to reach Circleville and Pickaway county canneries will be processed by the Winorr Co. beginning Saturday. Howard Orr, operator of the firm, said Thursday that one line would begin the pack this week with others going to work next week if the crop continues to ripen at its present speed.

Four lines are available for corn at the Winorr plant.

The Winorr Co.'s plant at Wauseon will not start on the corn pack for at least two weeks, the crop in northern Ohio ripening much slower than in Pickaway county.

Other local canners are making preparations to start operations. H. M. Crites will operate his canneries at New Holland and Jeffersonville, Fayette county, starting Aug. 9.

Mr. Crites is not certain whether he will operate the Ashville factory, "I have made definite arrangements to operate at New Holland and Jeffersonville," he said, "but the Ashville plant will be opened if the pack proves to be as big as it now appears it might be."

Corn from about 1,200 acres of land will be used by the Crites Co. Mr. Crites declared Thursday that about 500 acres of his corn had been wiped out in Scioto lowland floods.

Esmeralda Canning Co. officials were visiting their contracted acreage Thursday to determine how near the crop is ready for the factory. The Esmeralda, operated by the Smith family, will be opened sometime next week.

The Ladoga Co., formerly Sears-Nichols, does not handle corn, but will probably go to work next week on pork and beans and hominy.

COUNTY DENIES OVERDUE DEBT LISTED BY OHIO

Pickaway county was listed Thursday by State Auditor Joe T. Ferguson as $5,991 in debt to Ohio for maintenance of county wards being treated in state hospitals and institutions, but officials in the auditor's office declare the bill is only a current one and not delinquent.

Ferguson, in a statement, allowed Ohio counties until Sept. 1 to arrange payment of their debts to the state, under penalty of having the amount due deducted from their sales tax allocations after that time. The gross amount of county indebtedness is $4,481,265, Ferguson said. Pickaway county's bill of $5,991 is listed as one of those to be collected, but local officials are firm in the stand that they have taken care of all their state bills just as soon as they are rendered. "We haven't even received a notice that our present bill is $5,991," Fred Tipton, deputy auditor, said.

DETECTIVE, ARMED WITH PHOTOS, TRAILS DUCKS

PITTSBURGH, July 29.—(UP)—Detective Michael Matsey went a-hunting for a duck thief today—armed with a picture of the ducks.

The web-footed amphibians—nine of them—were stolen from the coop of John Kechulski, Green-tree farmer.

The ducks were pets, and when Farmer Kechulski discovered the robbery he dashed into the detective bureau with a photograph of them.

"I know everyone of them—I can identify them," he told Detective Matsey, who took the pictures and started out.

MOTHER'S LOVE NO JAIL CAUSE, COURT DECREES

NEW YORK, July 29.—(UP)—Mrs. Dottie Morris of Fayetteville, N. C. was at liberty today because a New York magistrate ruled there is "no justice in putting a woman in jail because of love for her own child."

Mrs. Morris came here three weeks ago with her six-year-old son, Dickie, because she feared her husband would succeed in obtaining sole legal custody if she remained in Fayetteville.

Yesterday she was arrested on the request of Fayetteville authorities, who asked she be held on a charge of abduction until detectives arrived from that city. The New York detectives who arrested her wrote on her history card the words "mother love" after the question "motive?"

Magistrate Myles A. Paige refused to hold her. He released her without bail for a hearing tomorrow.

"There is no justice in putting a woman in jail because of love for her own child," he said. "That isn't abduction. This woman has some rights. She needs protection and I will give her that protection. I know the feelings of parenthood, for I have children of my own."

REPUBLIC STEEL NAMED IN SUITS ASKING $210,000

CLEVELAND, O., July 29.—(UP)—Four suits that asked damages of $210,000 were filed here today against the Republic Steel Corporation.

Mrs. Jean Perez, administratrix for the estate of Fulgenico Calzada, killed in a strike riot at Massillon, July 11, asked damages of $50,000.

James De Camp and Charles Baker, shot during the Massillon riot, asked damages of $60,000 and $50,000 respectively.

Mrs. Mary Bogovich asked damages of $50,000 in connection with the death of her husband, John, during an outbreak of strike violence at Youngstown June 19.

SENATE NEARS BALLOTING ON WAGE-HOUR BILL

WASHINGTON, July 29.—(UP)—The senate approached final action on the Black-Connelly wage and hours bill today amid vigorous attack on administration labor policies by New Deal critics.

Sen. Hugo L. Black, D., Ala., chairman of the senate education and labor committee and sponsor of the wage and hours measure, said he believed it would be approved before adjournment tonight. Majority leader Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky, seeking to speed enactment, called the chamber together at 11 a. m., an hour early.

The bill, in its present form, would:

1. Set up a five-member labor standards board with authority to establish minimum wages up to 40 cents per hour and a maximum work-week no lower than 40 hours per week.

2. Prohibit child labor in industries engaged in interstate commerce. Most drastic penalty for violation of this ban would result in barring from channels of interstate commerce for a 30-day period products of any manufacturer found guilty of employing child labor in violation of the act.

Agricultural workers would be exempted along with workers in so-called "service trades" and other purely local enterprises. The board would have no authority in any case where agreements already have been reached through collective bargaining.

POLICE SEEKING MAN WHO STOLE THREE HOUSES

CINCINNATI, July 29.—(UP)—The theft of three buildings had been reported to police here today.

The complaint was made by Waymouth Finn, real estate agent, who discovered the loss of the structures when he took a prospective buyer to investigate the property.

Police learned that a negro had told residents near the location two weeks ago that he was going to build a modern apartment building on the lot and was willing to sell material from the old buildings. Wreckage operations which cleared the lot have proceeded during the two weeks. The value of the buildings was estimated at between $12,000 and $15,000.

CITY OFFICIALS OFFER $5,000 FOR OWN LAND

DALLAS, Tex., July 29.—(UP)—City officials saved $5,000 today. They had decided to buy five acres northeast of Dallas for a park if they could obtain for $5,000. A check on the title disclosed that the city had owned the property since 1878.

KING FAROUK I ENTHRONED ON 18TH BIRTHDAY

Millions Cheer as Handsome Youth Takes Oath to Rule Egypt

POPULAR WITH SUBJECTS

First Independent Ruler of Land in 400 Years Dons Crown

CAIRO, Egypt, July 29.—(UP)—King Farouk I was enthroned on his 18th birthday today as the first independent sovereign of Egypt in four centuries and one of the world's youngest rulers.

Two million persons cheered the tall, handsome youth as he rode in the royal carriage to parliament where, in the presence of the queen mother, the royal princes and princesses and high government officials, he took the oath "to respect and obey the Egyptian constitution, maintain the prestige of the country and defend its territory."

Thousands had stood in the streets through the night. Cairo's normal population was doubled by an influx of visitors. Multi-colored lights, festoons, banners and flags decorated the route of the king's ride to the parliament buildings.

The olive-skinned adventurer, who fought Napoleon, left the throne immediately after taking the oath, returning to the Palace of Abdine to receive the thanks of the committees of the two chambers of parliament.

Saluted by Army

Guns saluted the king as the gilded coach passed through the crowded streets to the palace. Airplanes flew overhead. The procession was broken in several places by enthusiastic persons who pushed through police lines and surrounded the royal coach.

The king showed great composure. His voice was deep and calm as he took the oath, and he bowed graciously to the princes and cabinet. (Continued on Page Twelve.)

VILLAGE BETS ANNUAL RAIN TO FALL TODAY

WAYNESBURG, Pa., July 29.—(UP)—If it doesn't rain in Waynesburg today everyone will be disappointed except the weather man—and a 62-year-old tradition will be broken for the third time.

No one knows why, but it nearly always seems to rain in this little college town on July 29. There have been only two rainless July 29ths here since 1875 and one of them sneaked in during the great drought of 1930.

Proof of this can be found in the tattered log book kept by Buron Daily, 50-year-old druggist who inherited the book when Ab Allison, drug clerk and court clerk died 10 years ago. But who kept the record before Allison's time no one knows.

The weather man's prediction of fair and slightly warmer for today did not dampen the spirit of die-hard Waynesburgers. Everyone is certain it will rain today, even if it's only a few drops—that's all that's necessary to uphold the tradition.

Acting Chief of Police R. D. Carroll said the day had dawned fair without threat of rain.

Asked how he felt about it, Acting Chief Carroll said: "Oh, of course it will rain today—sometime before midnight." "Why, chief?" "Oh, I don't know—I just know it'll rain. I'm sure of it."

"Mistress" of Il Duce Freed by French Court

PARIS, July 29.—(UP)—Mme. Madeleine Fontanges, self-proclaimed former mistress of Premier Mussolini of Italy, received a suspended sentence of one year in prison today at the conclusion of her secret trial on charges of shooting Count Charles Pineton De Chambrun.

Judges who were fearful lest the black-haired defendant make indiscreet disclosures concerning her alleged romance with Premier Mussolini, cleared the court.

Judges ordered the courtroom doors locked as police officers spread out nearly 300 photographs, many autographed, of the Italian dictator whose love for her, Mme. Fontanges charged, was cooled by the "poisonous lies" of Chambrun. Mme. Fontanges posed theatrically for photographers and conferred animatedly with her attorneys.

The black-haired, vivid Fontanges shot Chambrun, former French ambassador to Rome, last March 17 as he stepped aboard the Brussels express at the Nord railway station.

In a hysterical statement to police she accused Chambrun of "shattering my unforgettable hours of love with Mussolini; I'm sorry I did not kill him."

In testimony before a police examining magistrate, she said she was Il Duce's mistress in Rome for three months last year before Chambrun uttered the "poisonous lies" which caused Mussolini to send her away.

The photographs brought into court were found in Mme. Fontanges' apartment, along with an intimate diary in which she recounted love affairs with other men of prominence.

She accused Chambrun himself of attempting to steal a kiss or two while he was destroying her "lily" with Mussolini.

The hearing today was on charges of assault and battery and of failing to declare the small revolver with which she shot Chambrun in the groin.

SOIL SAVING SURVEY TO BE STARTED SOON

State officials under the 1937 Agricultural Conservation act will begin a check of Ohio farms soon to determine the extent to which participants have contributed to soil conservation. About three-fourths of Pickaway county's farmers are operating under provisions of the program.

E. F. Kruse, state chairman of soil conservation, will be in charge of the check. Widespread use of soil-building prices has been encouraged by the program. Among these are soil-conserving crops, liming, tree planting, and erosion-control measures. Acreages of newly seeded soil-conserving crops and soil-building projects conducted on participating farms will be ascertained and approved by the check.

QUIT GRABBING CHINA, BRITAIN WARNS JAPAN

BULLETIN

LONDON, July 29.—(UP)—Great Britain has warned Japan that the British government does not approve any further attempts to detach Chinese provinces from the Nanking government. Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden revealed in a guarded disclosure today in the house of commons.

Wedgwood Ben. Liberal, asked bluntly during the question hour: "Has the foreign secretary made it clear to the Japanese government that we do not approve of any further attempt to detach provinces from the Nanking government?"

"Yes," Eden replied. "Then the foreign secretary added hastily: 'From our various declarations, the honorable member will be able to see that we very much regret the situation, more so as we were hoping for improvement of relations in the Far East generally, which we cannot hope for while present conditions persist.'"

RUSSIAN EXILE WINS FORTUNE OF $3,000,000

PARIS, July 29.—(UP)—Rose Angeline Henriette Lewieuzze Stronganoff becomes the richest exile of Russia's czarist regime today.

When the court of appeals at Aix En Provence pronounces decision on a will, the widow of the former Russian count, Serge Stronganoff, will inherit approximately $3,000,000—all that is left of a fortune that once amounted to $40,000,000.

The pronouncement will end 14 years of bitter litigation in one of the greatest inheritance hoaxes of recent decades—one based on a single vowel in the name Stronganoff.

The fortune of Count Stronganoff, who died in 1923, dwindled when the Soviet government confiscated much of his holdings. The $3,000,000 is on deposit in banks of London and New York.

When Stronganoff died, Nicholas Stronganoff, an impoverished Russian exile, read the will. He realized that by changing a single vowel in his name—the second "o" to "a"—he might win millions away from Stronganoff's widow.

His scheme brought him into fabulous debt, magnificent titles. It ruined dozens of his gullible creditors; whistled him from garret, to grandeur to the grave.

Nicholas attached a noble title to his name, bought a flashy table of genealogy and laid siege to an aged and deaf aunt of Count Stronganoff. He hoped to obtain family documents from her to substantiate his claims that he was a nephew. He succeeded.

With clever wiles he won the confidence of the Stronganoff widow, who invited the pretender nephew into her home. When Nicholas' creditors began to clamor for payment he tried to get the money from his benefactor. Instead he found himself in the courts, then died a pauper.

FREED CONVICT SAYS GIVE ME AID, OR ELSE

RALEIGH, N. C., July 29.—(UP)—If Marcus Reeves, 25, Bellwood, Ill., gets in any more trouble it will be the fault of the state of North Carolina, he contended today.

Reeves walked out of central state prison here yesterday after completing a four-year term for larceny.

"Send me back to Illinois or I'll break the law," he told state officials. "You release me with a new suit, a pair of prison shoes, a gray prison shirt—and no money. I can get a job in Illinois, but not here. It'll cost the state $15, the price of a ticket, for me to go straight."

"If they don't send me home—well, I've got to live. I'll steal." Officials pointed out to Reeves that anything the state did to aid him would also be in violation of the law.

MUSSOLINI FAT, HEALTHY ON BIRTH ANNIVERSARY

ROME, July 29.—(UP)—Premier Benito Mussolini, looking physically fit but a little stouter around the waist, celebrated his 54th birthday today with his family at Riccione on the Adriatic coast.

Il Duce always likes a quiet birthday, and today's celebration was in keeping with that practice.

Photographs taken of him a few days ago at the beach at Viareggio showed him in scanty bathing trunks and smiling broadly, and indicated that he was in excellent health.

American Citizens Charge That U. S. Army Fails to Give Protection

BULLETIN

TIENTSIN, China, Friday, July 30.—(UP)—Flames lighted the skies over Tientsin during a night of terror in which Americans and other foreigners holed in the troop-guarded foreign concessions after mad Chinese troops had started a hopeless fight against the Japanese war machine.

BULLETIN

NANKING, China, July 29.—(UP)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, head of China's central government, called on the nation tonight to mobilize all its resources for war on Japan.

"China is determined to fight to the last man," he declared, adding that he has made necessary arrangements to defend the country against encroachment on its territory.

China's highest political authority in China and therefore responsible for present conditions in the north. He said that Gen. Sung Chieh-han, who quit his governmental post in Peiping under pressure, "must not receive the blame alone."

NANKING, China, July 29.—(UP)—Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek, dominant figure in the Chinese central government, was reliably understood tonight to be drafting a strongly worded statement on the conflict with Japan.

Informed quarters believed it might result in severance of diplomatic relations, preliminary as a formal state of war.

TIENTSIN, July 29.—(UP)—Parts of Tientsin were in flames today as an unorganized Chinese army battled the efficient Japanese war machine and foreigners crowded into the foreign concessions, expecting a night of terror.

There is no American concession and the United States missionaries and their families, took refuge in quarters guarded by other nationalities. Men of the 15th United States infantry guarded American citizens coming. (Continued on Page Twelve.)

MURPHY CALLED TO WASHINGTON BY PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, July 29.—(UP)—Gov. Frank Murphy of Michigan, has been invited by President Roosevelt to spend this week-end with him at the White House or cruising aboard the presidential yacht. It was learned today.

The White House did not reveal the purpose of Murphy's trip to Washington for conferences with the president.

However Mr. Roosevelt's aides inferentially denied that the two officials would discuss changes in the Wagner labor relations act.

LITTLE GERMAN BAND PLAYS FOR ROTARIANS

Circleville's Little German band, comprised of high school pupils and graduates, provided an entertaining program for the Rotary club Thursday at its noon meeting.

A program comprised entirely of German music, including folk songs and national airs, was offered by the youths.

Included in the band are Glenn Weiler, baritone; Robert Owens, bass; Gaylord Greenlee, saxophone; Dale Ankrom, first clarinet, and Harry Hockett, alto saxophone.

ENDEAVOUR II IS IDLE

Britain's Pride Ready to Go Into Water for First Heat

VINEYARD HAVEN, MASS., July 29.—(UP)—Harold (Mike) Vanderbilt's Ranger sailed for Newport today while the challenger for the America's cup, T. O. M. Sopwith's Endeavour II was high and dry on the beach at Bristol being readied for the opening race Saturday.

Vanderbilt plans to haul out his undefeated cup defender for a final cleaning and polishing Saturday night after the first joust of the 16th challenge for the historic cup.

Ranger outsailed all of the class J boats, including Sopwith's Endeavour II, in the eastern yacht club annual cruise yesterday. She finished six and a half minutes ahead of Gerard B. Lambert's Yankee in the 37½ mile beat down Buzzard's bay, and ran up Vineyard sound. Chandler Hovey's Rainbow, 1934 cup defender, was third a minute and a half behind Yankee, and Endeavour I was fourth, trailing the Vanderbilt yacht by 9½ minutes.

This race, as well as all the previous trials, demonstrated the superiority of Ranger over the other two cup defense candidates, Yankee and Rainbow. It was the 14th straight victory for Vanderbilt's unbeaten boat. Skipper Mike held his own all the way.

Britain's pride, Endeavour II, will go into the water at Bristol tonight or tomorrow morning and remain idle until the first challenge race begins Saturday. No one so far, has a definite comparison of the relative qualities of the defender and the challenger, because Sopwith and Vanderbilt have cautiously avoided a meeting of the two boats all summer.

RANKIN TO SPEAK AT FARM BUREAU SESSION

Representative John E. Rankin, congressman from Mississippi, will be the headline speaker on the first day of the nineteenth annual convention of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, to be held in Columbus, Nov. 18 and 19.

One of the country's foremost crusaders for reduction of electric power rates, Rankin teamed with Sen. George W. Norris in sponsoring the legislation which created the Rural Electrification Administration. He is now battling in the Congress for additional water power projects similar to T. V. A., and for the extension of T. V. A. current to municipalities and cooperation in Ohio and other states near by.

Ashville Power Plant Making Improvements

By S. D. FRIDLEY
Phone Ashville 75

Walked up to a couple of very busy cement workers yesterday evening over at the sub-station power plant and they sure were particular about how every particle of the cement fit in, and that all the corners and edges were polished down to that proverbial "gnats heel." Another white collar person, with what we at first thought was specifications in his hand, but sizing up these "specifications" closer, they turned out to be a hunting and fishing magazine and then we rested easier and felt sure we would get some kind of a story out of somebody, because that was what we were looking for. This "big boy" as we supposed he was, gave us a look or two and said nothing and that relieved the tension, because we were on power plant ground and expected to be ordered out or maybe worse than that. Suddenly he told the workers that he must go, got in his car and drove away and that loosened the tension some more. Not wishing to bother the two cement workers, who were putting on the last finishing touches before they quit for the day, we sauntered around to the sub-station operator's office where a young man was sitting at a caged-in desk. On our approach he arose from his chair and gave us a kindly greeting. We inquired about Burr Brintlinger and Hugh McManamy and he said Hugh would be on his "trick" tonight and Burr tomorrow morning. He seemed to be sensibly friendly and not of the "hard boiled" variety we sometimes encounter. Told us his name was Bernard Kruskamp and that he was an Ashville resident living with his parents who had recently purchased the Van-Vickie property. Said his father, George Kruskamp, had been at this kind of work for sometime, and that he, himself, hoped to know enough after awhile to hold down a job. It was now beginning to get dark and the two cement workers had finished what they had intended for the day and brought their tools to a standing truck nearby, ready to go to their homes in Canal Winchester. Found them to be of just "common clay" and willing to talk. Said the cement work we had seen was foundation for new transformers and lightning arresters and that the voltage was to be "stepped up" and that these transformers would weigh ten tons each. These two cement workers are telling you about are Harry Pinks and Glenn Wolfe both of Canal Winchester. Said this work they are doing here was considerable of a job and would take several weeks to complete.

Ashville. More about the wheat. Considerable of it is yet coming into the elevators, although the stream has slackened considerably. Some of it we saw yesterday was plenty weedy and poor quality. The price was $1.08, three cents up from the day before. The high point price for new wheat for the season was $1.17. This week if the weather man "stays put", will finish 90 percent of the threshing. Several of the threshing squads yet come to the Ashville restaurants for their noon meals.

HAILE PLEADS FOR PRAYERS TO AID ETHIOPIA

LONDON, July 29.—(UP)—Haile Selassie of Ethiopia, breaking a long silence, appealed to leaders and members of all Christian churches today to "express their horror and condemnation at the suffering imposed on my people, and aid us with their prayers so that the abominable outrages permitted and condoned by the Italian government may be brought to an end."

In a statement issued through the Ethiopian legation, he declared that "I shall not give up hope for the restoration of my country's independence."

He charged that Italian soldiers in Ethiopia "murder hundreds of men, women and children x x x torture war prisoners x x x force prostitution on thousands of unmarried women and young widows."

When Hindu infants cry, their mothers often feed them opium.

Mr. Essick's elevator work partner, James Carley, who too, had a finger smashed, is about the elevator doing what he can. And while mentioning Carley's name reminds us that he has one of the finest truck patches in the village. Showed us some of his Kentucky Wonder beans, maybe not quite a yard long, but are plenty long, alright.

HAILE PLEADS FOR PRAYERS TO AID ETHIOPIA

LONDON, July 29.—(UP)—Haile Selassie of Ethiopia, breaking a long silence, appealed to leaders and members of all Chris-

In a statement issued through the Ethiopian legation, he declared that "I shall not give up hope for the restoration of my country's independence."

H. B. GIVEN OIL COMPANY GOES MOBILGAS, TOO!

Because Mobilgas, the country's largest Selling Gasoline...and Mobiloil, made by the famous Clearosol Process... are the choice of motorists everywhere.

Watch for the Sign of the Flying Red Horse for Friendly Service for your every motoring need. It's a good sign to remember for tires, batteries, accessories, polishes... or just directions for a trip... as well as for Mobilgas, with Climatic Control, and Mobiloil.

A Mobilubrication job is far more than just a grease job. It includes a thorough inspection of all parts of the car at no extra cost... in addition to the fact that only genuine Mobiloils and Mobilgreases are used... exactly as specified by the manufacturer of your car.

FROM now on you'll be able to get those two great mileage products... Mobilgas with Climatic Control and the new Clearosol-Processed
Mobiloil... at our stations.

We're ready to give you the sort of Friendly Service that has helped so much to make Mobilgas
the largest selling gasoline in the whole country today
... the Friendly Service you always find at the Sign of the Flying Red Horse.

No gasoline in history has ever made so many friends in such a short space of time... real friends that stick. That's why we are selling Mobilgas with Climatic Control, and the new Clearosol Mobiloil. More motorists everywhere prefer them.
And there are many reasons for this nation-wide swing to Mobilgas and Mobiloil.

In the first place, Mobilgas is the only gasoline with Climatic Control... to give you full power, more mileage and smooth, sure performance regardless of weather or climate.

That's what Climatic Control means. Mobilgas is pre-adjusted at the refinery so that it automatically adjusts itself to changing conditions of weather and temperature. You get all the power and performance out of your car that the manufacturer built into it.

Hot, cold, wet or dry, every drop works.

Nor is that all. When you ask for oil at the Sign of the Flying Red Horse you get Mobiloil, now made by the famous Socony-Vacuum Clearosol Process.

It's an oil with an exceedingly low consumption rate, lower than ever thought possible.

Tests more severe than any driving conditions show Mobiloil resists gumming more than any other high-grade oil compared. You needn't fear stuck rings and valves, when you use Mobiloil.

Mobiloil has very superior resistance to thinning.
You get full protection, under most severe operating.

And so with every product and service you find at the Sign of the Flying Red Horse... many of which are as useful to keep things looking bright and working right around the house as they are for the car. Ask about these Mobil Products.

You'll save yourself a lot of time, trouble and money by making the Mobilgas Station headquarters for all of your motoring needs. Just watch for the Sign of the Flying Red Horse, the Sign that always stands for Friendly Service.

When you ask for oil at a Mobilgas station you get genuine Mobiloil, made by the Socony-Vacuum Clearosol
Process, which purges the oil of all useless elements that break down, form carbon and
gum. The result is a practically 100% pure lubricant

ACE AIDS CUP RACE IS TUSSLE BETWEEN MIKE AND TOM

Many Remember Sopwith as Young Flyer Who Thrilled America With Daredevil Stunts 25 Years Ago

By BILL BRAUCHER

Central Press Sports Editor
NEW YORK, July 29 — To friends and newspaper men, Harold S. Vanderbilt, millionaire, who will sail the Ranger, July 31, in defense of the America's cup, is known as "Mike."

The challenger, Thomas Octave Murdoch Sopwith, British millionaire and master of Endeavour II, is called "Tom." Common qualities of democracy have endeared both Mike and Tom to the men assigned to Newport, R. I., to cover the international yacht races for the newspapers.

Sopwith is not a stranger to America. His last visit, in 1934 when Endeavour I lost to the Vanderbilt Rainbow, was not his first by any means. America first knew him as a flyer 25 years ago when he was regarded as one of the young daredevils of Great Britain.

About Bessie's Engines

"Tom" is 49 years old, son of a former director of the Bank of England. As a boy it was his ambition to "make Bessie's engine go," Bessie being the family yacht. Motor boat, yacht and aviation engines have been his hobby. In 1910 he made the longest flight of the year, across the English channel and 150 miles into France. He won the around-England air derby in 1912. He came to America in 1912 and 1913 to win the Harmsworth motor boat trophy, which has been Gar Woods steady possession for many years.

It was a seaplane designed by Sopwith that won the Schneider cup in 1914, the highest prize in naval aviation. Royal Air Force experts say the war was won by Sopwith Camels, high-powered pursuit planes he designed. As head of Hawker-Engineering Co., Sopwith supplies the R. A. F. with about half the planes the force uses.

Wins Prizes as Flyer

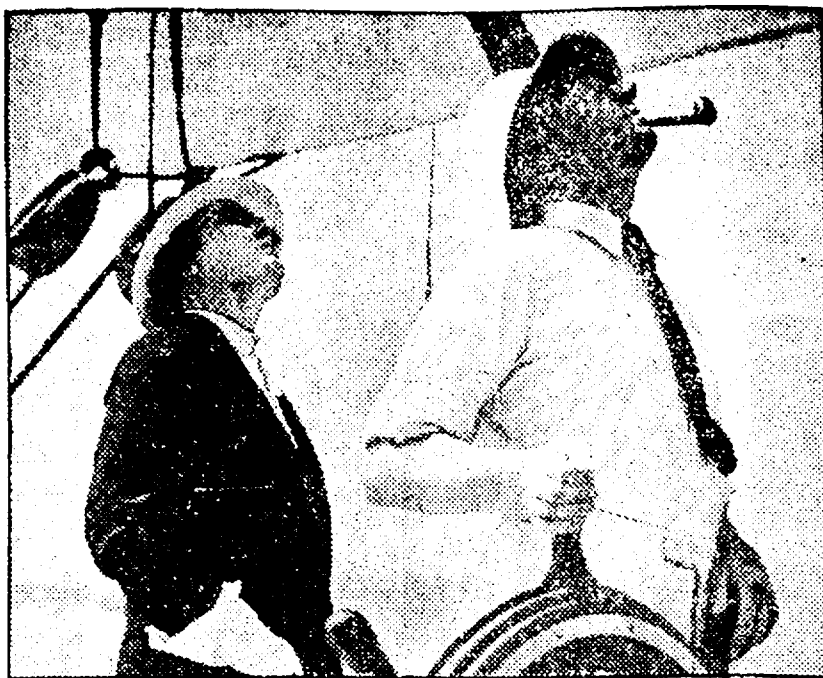

As a young man he took a flying at automobile racing, but preferred aviation. He brought three planes to America back in 1912 and won $12,000 in prize money. He won the Philadelphia flying around William Penn's statue at city hall. Later he crashed into a fence on Long Island, with Nelson Doubleday, publisher, as passenger.

Sopwith took up yachting ten years ago, and in three years won 109 prizes (75 firsts) with his craft Doris and Mouette. He has won some reputation as a clever starter. His protest following the Vanderbilt victories in 1934 were based on the starts Vanderbilt made, and though Vanderbilt did not protest the starts Sopwith made in the first two races (which Sopwith won), the American skipper might have done so.

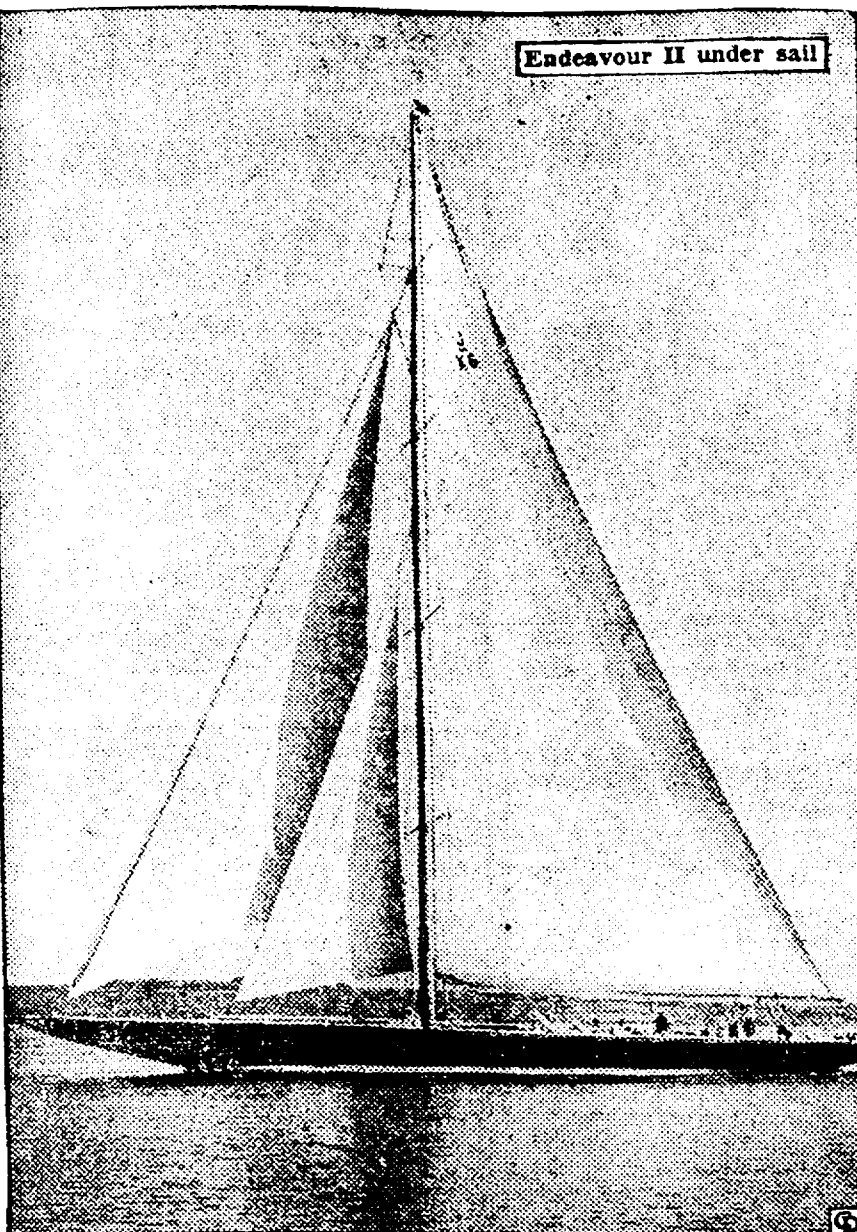

Sopwith's first wife was a daughter of Lord Ruthven. Two years after her death he married tall, blonde Phyllis Brodie, in 1932, and he has a son four years old. In 1928 he bought Lord Ribblesdale's mansion in London, but sold it to the Crown when Queen Mary expressed admiration for the house, and moved around the corner. His wife goes along as timekeeper during his yacht races. She is an expert fisherman, once having caught a 505-pound tuna all by herself.

Sailed Yacht to Portugal
The defender of America's cup is Harold Stirling Vanderbilt whose share of the family fortune amounted to some $30,000,000. He won the Founder's medal at St. Mark's school for being the best pupil. At Harvard he finished a four-year course in three years, was a member of the Porcelain club and manager of the football team. He won note as one of the best auction bridge players in the world, and fathered the Vanderbilt convention, a well-known contract maneuver.

Like Sopwith he went in for automobile racing as a young man. He flew his own plane, too, once flying from Newport to Southampton to play golf, thence flying to a Harvard-Yale baseball game, soaring on to a boat race at Poughkeepsie and finally to dinner at Port Washington, L. I. He has been a yachtsman ever since boyhood. In 1913 (he was 29) he sailed his yacht Vagrant from Portsmouth, Me., to Lisbon, Portugal, in 23 days and won the King's cup. He has been commander of the New York Yacht club. During the World War he

Next Winter May Make Vegetarians of Many

The next Winter may make vegetarians of many Circleville and Pickaway county residents if food experts know what they are talking about. Government authorities believe that chances are good that the cost of filling a market basket will not be so high as a year ago, if the housewife does not buy much meat. Meat supplies still are scarce and prices high as a result of the 1936 drought and high feed prices. A bumper crop of fruit and vegetables appear certain, thus a lower price.

Meat eaters will find their expenses considerably higher than those who care for the lighter foods.

Donald Montgomery, head of the federal Consumers' Council, expects dairy and poultry products prices to show less than seasonal increase, partly because of large storage supplies, and that bread prices will not advance despite higher wheat prices. Potato prices now are about 40 percent below those of last year, nationally, and may go lower if prospects for a bumper crop materialize.

Government experts emphasize that although average food costs are up three percent over a year ago, pay envelopes of most workers will buy more food because of salary increases.

Food costs now are about 18 percent higher than at the low point of the depression in 1933, but are 25 percent below 1929, Department of Labor statistics show.

SHE BECOMES BRIDE AFTER PAYING FINE

From the mayor's court, to the marriage license bureau, to a minister was the path followed by Miss Bessie Lowery and Lafayette Eby, Jr., Wednesday afternoon.

The couple was ordered held for grand jury action by Mayor W. J. Graham, Monday, following their arrest on statutory charges. They had denied guilt and demanded hearings in a higher court. Wednesday afternoon, Miss Lowery changed her plea and was fined $25 and costs. When she left the mayor's office Eby was waiting for her, and together they climbed the stairs to the license bureau in the courthouse.

The next step in the procedure was a visit to the Rev. O. L. Ferguson, in whose paragonage the marriage vows were exchanged.

Eby planned to visit Mayor Graham's office Thursday to change his plea in order to evade a grand jury inquiry.

United States' motorists consumed more than 18 billion gallons of gasoline last year. This represents an increase of 1,754,000,000 gallons over the 1935 total.

COUNTY CLERKS WIN PRAISE FOR EFFICIENT WORK

Praise for the efficient manner in which clerks of most of Pickaway county's townships kept their records prior to the last audit by state officials is included in the report of Lemuel P. Sherman and Allen G. Atwill, examiners, on file in the office of the county auditor. Findings in favor of the various townships total $55.65. All of the items are minor.

The examiners found several clerks who did not keep some records in the manner prescribed by law, but as a whole applauded the efficiency of the officials.

Killer's Hand Proves Key To Crime; Laboratory Tells All

PROCESS IS OUTLINED

Paraffin Mold Discloses Fact When Suspect Has Fired Gun

MILWAUKEE (UP)—Milwaukee gunmen are being trapped in a chemist's laboratory. White-coated city chemists working quietly among their test tubes, beakers and flasks have become the gun-carrying criminal's worst enemies.

Under the leadership of Russell W. Cunliffe, director of the bureau of laboratories, the chemists have developed a test which they believe is virtually error-proof in connecting a gun with the person who fired it.

The chemical experts have improved the method of linking a gunman and his gun through paraffin tests by recording the exact distribution of powder marks left by a gun on the shooter's hands.

Hand Mold Taken

When police detail a suspect in a shooting case they take him immediately to the detective bureau for a paraffin mold of his hand. The mold then is turned over to Cunliffe who tests it for traces of powder.

"Powder contains a nitrate," Cunliffe explained. "When a gun is fired microscopic particles bore into the skin of the hand holding the weapon."

Traces of powder are picked up by the mold, the chemist said. When a nitrate testing solution is applied to the mold blue spots appear if the nitrate is present.

While one chemist applies the nitrate tester to the mold others note and record the number, size and distribution of the blue particles.

On a diagram of the hand the testers record where each particle of powder is found.

Key In Powder Marks
"Then by tracing the distribution of the powder marks made in controlled shooting it is possible to connect a gun with the powder marks found on the hand," Cunliffe said.

In one case, a husband was shot while alone with his wife. The question was whether he had shot himself or whether she had killed him. A paraffin test revealed 56 particles of powder on the dead man's hand. I fired the gun and 56 particles of powder were distributed on my hand in the same manner as the dead man's," Cunliffe said, explaining that this convinced him that the man had fired the gun.

Cunliffe said the test has been used in 53 cases here since it was discovered in his laboratory in 1933. At present his assistants are working on a process that would enable them to produce a permanent picture of the mold. As now used the mold becomes invaluable after a single test.

Egrets Believed Seen In Upstate New York

ROUND LAKE, N. Y. (UP)—Eight egrets have been reported in this vicinity. The beautiful snow-white birds seldom seen north of the Carolinas, were standing in a small fresh-water pond, according to passengers on a railway passenger train.

RECORD CROWD VISITS SPECIAL CATTLE SALE

Cooperative Pavilion Packed For Offering of Jerseys And Guernseys

PRICES SHOW DECLINE

Local Market, However, is Above Values Quoted At Pittsburgh

The largest crowd to attend a sale at the Pickaway county livestock Co-operative pavilion in recent months was present Wednesday evening when 110 Jersey and Guernsey heifers were offered as a special attraction. The pavilion was crowded with buyers and spectators.

Cattle prices, however, fell below last week's mark with the highest offer at the Pickaway county sale being $10 to $13 for good steers and heifers. No choice stock was offered. Last week's top was $12.40 to $13.90. A general slump in the cattle market was blamed.

The Circleville sale price for calves was above the Pittsburgh top, Wednesday, with $12 to $13.20 being offered for good to choice stock here. The Pittsburgh top was $12. Fifty-two heads were offered on the county mart. Last week's top price for calves was $9 to $10.55.

Sheep and lamb prices with 87 heads on sale went higher than a week ago with $10 to $10.40 being offered for fair to good stock, compared with $9.50 to $9.60.

Hogs fell this week from $12.95 to $13, the mark reached last week, to $12.75 to $12.90, for good to choice animals. The total of hogs sold was 358.

Engineer For 58 Years Late With Last Train

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (UP)—Era Enos, who completed his last run in 58 years of railroading by pulling his train into the station 15 minutes late, advises young people to "choose the job you like."

"If you're doing something you enjoy, it's easy to stick to it," the 74-year-old veteran engineer explained.

When Enos started his railroad career, it was necessary to break freight trains by hand and "begin slowing down a mile before you wanted to stop, or farther away if it was on a down grade."

"From now on I'm going to play," he said as he left the cab for the last time.

The stack scorched one side of the barn, but the efforts of volunteer fighters, who poured water on the flames, and of the Circleville engine, operated by Chief Palmer Wise, prevented any further damage.

The Circleville engine was called to the Cliff Dresbach farm, north of South Bloomfield, Tuesday afternoon when farm property was menaced by a burning straw stack.

San Diego Traps Drunk Drivers; Halts All Cars

SAN DIEGO, Cal. (UP)—The "drunk trap," or blockade, which takes intoxicated motorists off the streets and to jail before there is an accident, is the answer to the rapid increase in traffic deaths, believes Chief of Police George Sears, of San Diego, who originated the idea.

How well the plan operates, Sears said, is shown by the records, which reveal San Diego is one of the few cities of the nation with more than 100,000 population, to show a decrease in traffic deaths during 1936.

For the first six months of 1937 San Diego had maintained its record, Sears declared, pointing to insurance company statistics which show that of 50 cities in the 100,000 to 250,000 population class, San Diego had the least fatalities.

Only 25 persons were killed on San Diego streets during the first six months of this year.

Under Sears' plan squads of officers, each night, are sent into various parts of the city. There are eight men to a squad, all equipped with motorcycles.

Officers are stationed at each entrance to the intersection and every approaching car, truck and motorcycle is halted. The operator carefully studied by the policemen.

All suspected of being in the least intoxicated are ordered to the side of the highway and more exhaustive tests made.

If the driver is found to be intoxicated he is taken to jail and booked.

In the first six months of the year the "drunk traps" sent 339 motorists to jail, but the number is decreasing monthly, from a high of 80 in March to 48 in June.

Sears asserted these figures prove the efficiency of the traps—that motorists hesitate to take "even one little drink before they venture out on the streets, for they never know when, or where they'll run into a drunk trap."

IT MAY HAPPEN TO YOU

THE real danger of the highway grade crossing is not the unexpected approach of the train, but the failure of the automobile driver to exercise the utmost caution. Consider these two records:

Record No. 1—Within a recent ten-year period, the Norfolk and Western has expended $3,400,000 for the elimination of highway grade crossings on its lines. To safeguard the thousands who cross its tracks at grade, the railway has spent more than $780,000 for the installation of protective devices at crossings. For the maintenance of these devices and the pay of gatemen and watchmen, it spends approximately $240,000 annually. For years, the N. & W. has carried on a vigorous and unrelenting campaign to educate the automobile driver to "Stop, Look and Listen."

Record No. 2—Incredible as it may seem, about 20 per cent of all the grade crossing accidents on the N. & W. last year were due to automobiles being driven into the sides of trains, either standing on, or passing over, grade crossings; and 132 automobile drivers drove through and broke down crossing gates which had been lowered for their protection. A recent check at a number of protected crossings on the N. & W. revealed—first, that of the total number of automobile drivers who arrived at crossings after the warning signals had begun to operate and before the trains had reached the crossings, 61 per cent continued to cross the tracks in utter disregard of the warnings; second, that in practically every case the attitude and conduct of the driver indicated a full consciousness of the signal warning and its purpose.

Largely through its huge expenditures and constant vigilance in the interest of public safety, grade crossing accidents on the N. & W. have been reduced 40 per cent during the past ten years. But the tragic and utterly useless destruction of life continues.

This is the season when automobile traffic is heaviest. It is the "open season" for highway grade crossing accidents. The exercise of caution on your part may save your life. What you say to a friend may save his life. The N. & W. and the other railroads of the country cannot alone solve this serious problem. They are doing more than their part. Won't you exert every effort to do your part?

Who said that actors have no business sense?

The next time any "know-it-all" pal of yours makes any such statement as that, just point, for complete and annihilating refutation, to William Demarest, featured in Paramount's "The Gambini," which is showing tonight at the Cliftona Theatre.

It works out like this: It seems that Demarest has a pal, Don Barclay, former stage comedian, who is now in the movies. Barclay is, among his other qualifications, an extremely accomplished painter, but because of the pressure of his acting, has never had time to paint more pictures than he could present to his very close friends. Therefore, he has never received popular acclaim as an artist.

These offerings were composed especially for the movie by Jimmy McHugh and Harold Adamson. Virginia sings the latter song when she tries to capture the good will of a producer, to induce him to star her in his show. She sings "When Love Is Young" in the musical comedy that marks her stage triumph.

Besides these two selections, Miss Bruce trills many oldtime favorites, to the great delight of her screen relatives. She has a rich soprano voice which reaches the

ON MOTOR BOATS STUDIED COUNCILMEN

Conservationists Act as Recent Fatal Accidents
At Reservoirs

INVESTIGATION UNDER WAY

All State Owned Inland Lakes Affected by Ohio Proposal

COLUMBUS, O., July 29—(UP)—

The State Conservation Council today had voted to investigate a motion for banning all motor boats from state-owned inland lakes.

The motion was submitted to the council at its meeting yesterday by Ray Lawrence, member from Youngstown, and was seconded by George Krebs, of Dayton.

Action was deferred, pending an investigation into the investments which sportsmen have made in motor boats and equipment on the lakes.

The action was said the result of recent fatal accidents allegedly caused by reckless operation of the power boats.

The council also voted to endorse an enlarged program for additions and betterments, made possible by an increased appropriation to the conservation division.

The additional funds will be used to purchase easements along stream banks, for construction of dams, for obtaining lands to be used for patrolled shooting areas and for the general improvement of the natural habitat for wild life.

A survey of the old canal from Massillon to Canal Fulton to determine probable costs of making a model fishing area of the canal was ordered.

Double Service Held For Victims of Storm

The Atlanta Methodist church was filled Wednesday afternoon when funeral services were conducted by the Rev. R. N. Morris for Mr. and Mrs. Roy Blake, of Dayton. The Blakes were drowned in Lake St. Mary, Auglaize county, Sunday afternoon when their rowboat capsized during a sudden storm.

Mr. Blake, a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Blake, of Atlanta, was a native of Pickaway county. His wife was a Dayton resident. Burial was in Mt. Sterling cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Geyel, of Dayton, were rescued from drowning by Benjamin McIntyre and Hugo Skinner, St. Marys residents. The Geyels were riding with the Blakes when the tragedy happened.

Persons familiar with the lake had started for shore before the storm broke. The party in the boat had started, too, but did not reach land.

The rescuers had been with a fishing party near the rowboat and had gone ashore when the cries of the Daytonians were heard. Skinner and McIntyre set out to the rescue, rowing, but were unable to make much headway. Skinner plunged into the water and pushed the boat until the water became too deep. When the men finally reached the overturned boat Mrs. Geyel was clinging to it and Mr. Geyel was near exhaustion after fighting to save Mrs. Blake, whose strangle hold on him took him under with her in her struggles.

The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Blake were recovered Tuesday.

HOLLYWOOD, July 29—(UP)—

Bette Davis, dainty blonde star of the blase movie roles, was seriously ill today from sunstroke suffered when she spent two days on the beach during the current heat wave.

HOWARD, TIM AND IRENE

Willie Howard, the well known vaudeville and stage comedian, joins Tim and Irene, comedy team and Adelaide Klein, dramatic monologist, on Rudy Vallee's guest star bill tonight.

Howard, with his brother Eugene, was a fixture for years on the variety stage. This appearance on the Variety Hour is one of the few times he has been heard in a "single" act.

Tim and Irene, otherwise Tim Ryan and Irene Noble, are a favorite radio comedy team who also were a popular vaudeville feature in the heyday of variety. In private life they are husband and wife.

Adelaide Klein will be heard in a monologue entitled "Coney Island Vignette" which she wrote herself.

AMECHE AND LAMOUR

The dramatic stars of the coffee hour program Sunday, August 1, will not be guest performers, but regular members of the cast. In this broadcast over the NBC red network at 7 p. m. (EST), Don Ameche and Dorothy Lamour will give listeners a preview of the forthcoming picture "You Can't Have Everything."

Ameche was also starred in the screen production but on the air Miss Lamour plays the part that Alice Faye had in the picture. Ameche sings "Afraid to Dream," one of the hit songs of "You Can't Have Everything."

W. C. Fields and his terminated-tortmentor, Charlie (Dummy) McCarthy, will both be back with Edgar Bergen, radio's only ventriloquist doing the talking for Charlie. Music will be provided by Don Ameche, Dorothy Lamour, a guest soloist and Robert Armstrong's orchestra.

NEW ENGLAND RUNS HIGHEST GROCERY BILL

Southwestern Area Largest
Average $2.50 Weekly
Per Person

20,000 HOMES SURVEYED

North Central States Run
$1.90 to $3.70 in Small
City, Town Groups

WASHINGTON, July 28—(UP)—The average American family spends about $2.50 a week per person for food, according to a survey by the Bureau of Home Economics of the Department of Agriculture.

The weekly food bill ranged from 65 cents to $7 per person last year among 20,000 families surveyed in all parts of the United States, the bureau reported.

New England families tend to spend more money for food than families in other regions, the survey showed. Southeastern families, largely because of the number of Negroes, spend the least.

Pacific Coast food budgets are more likely to provide adequate diets than in other regions of the country, largely because of lower food costs, the bureau said.

Below $3.65 Average
Three-fourths of the small city and village families in New England spent less than $3.65 per capita weekly for food during 1936, the survey showed. The bulk of this group spent between $2.30 and $3.65 per week.

In contrast with New England, Negro families in the small cities and villages of the Southeast spend the least for food of any group covered in the study.

Three-fourths of the Negro families in this area spent less than $1.85 per person per week and the bulk spent between 85 cents and $1.85. In some rural sections the average was as low as 65 cents per week per person.

The study indicated that small city families in the Northeast probably would require, at 1936 prices, a weekly per capita food expenditure of about $2.70 to obtain an inexpensive but adequate diet.

About $2.50 in the Pacific region, $2.35 among white families and $1.80 among the Negro families in the South would be needed for equally good diet, the bureau said.

Adequate Diet Assured
These amounts would buy, the bureau suggested, "adequate diet at minimum cost" in the different areas.

"The differences from region to region and between the racial groups are due in part to differences in retail food prices paid and in part to the traditional food selection habits of the families," the bureau said.

The figures on food expenditures in these different regions show that 70 per cent of the families studied in the Pacific region spent enough for food to obtain a fully adequate diet, according to the bureau.

About 65 per cent of the New England families spent enough to obtain an adequate diet, about 60 percent of the Southeast white, but only about 40 per cent of the Negro families, it was said.

In New England the middle half of small city and village families spent from $2.30 to $3.65 per week per person, and the lowest quarter spent $1.25 to $2.30. Farm families in the same groups spent from $2.10 to $3.10 and from $1.25 to $2.10.

Low Is 65 Cents Weekly
In the North Central states the middle half of small city and village groups spent from $1.90 to $3.10, and the lowest quarter from 65 cents to $1.90. Farm families in the same groups spent $1.75 to $2.70 and from 65 cents to $1.75.

Western middle half families ranged from $2.10 to $3.25 in the middle half and from $1.25 to middle half spent from $2.10 to $3.25 and in the lowest quarter from $1.25 to $2.10. Farm groups spent from $2.10 to $2.90 and from $1.25 to $2.10.

Southeastern whites in the middle half spent from $1.65 to $2.90 and Negroes in the same classification from 85 cents to $1.85.

Lowest quarter expenditure for whites was from 65 cents to $1.65 and for Negroes from 65 cents to 45 cents.

Among rural families in the Southeast whites spent from $1.35 to $2.30 in the middle half and from 65 to 75 cents in the lowest quarter.

All food costs were computed, not only on the basis of foods purchased but also to the money value of all foods, including those home produced. In the case of farm families this cost was computed largely on estimates.

GOLD PROBLEM

THIS is what you might call the Golden Age for Uncle Sam, anyway. He has more than $12,000,000,000 worth of gold in the treasury, and a stream still pouring in. It is more than half the monetary gold in the world. If the flow continues, as it will if the government keeps its buying price higher than the normal world price, Uncle may have, within a few years, practically all the loose gold there is.

What will he do with it then? No public explanation of the government's gold-buying policy has been given. The following suggestion is not attempt to explain, but is merely offered as an interesting flight of fancy.

Suppose, when the United States Treasury has finally stored in bank vaults and Kentucky caves all the world's free gold, Congress cuts the price of the theoretical gold dollar again, declaring that half or less than half of the present metal content shall constitute a lawful gold dollar.

It could then use the gold to pay off the national debt. Or couldn't it?

RAILROAD STEWARDESS

THE airlines started it. Some western railroads took up the idea. Now an eastern railroad leads the way in that part of the country by employing stewardess-nurses to look after passengers' welfare and comfort. Their service is directed particularly toward traveling women and children, but they are ready to care for minor ills among all travelers and to be generally useful to the very old, the inexperienced, and others.

The stewardess, besides being a graduate nurse, is familiar with the railroad and its history. "She knows the points of interest on her route and can tell passengers about them. She is self-confident, but not bold; tactful and kind. She instinctively knows when a passenger is unhappy, uncomfortable or worried, and what she should do to help."

It seems to an outsider that this super-nurse must more than earn her wages, even if they are high. Her ministrations should add much to the popularity of railroad travel.

The brother of King George VI urges closer co-operation between the United States and Great Britain, "to restore normal conditions to this sorely perplexed world." Well, we're sending 'em our Hollywood films now, and they're sending us their Scotch whisky.

Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

LOVE AND KISSES BUT TEMPORARY
WASHINGTON — You hear a lot of talk around Capitol lobbies that the Supreme Court fight is over, and everything is now love and kisses in the Democratic Party.

But don't be deceived by those kisses. There may be a temporary lull in the battle, but it will be very temporary.

The real issue today is: Will the Roosevelt program go on?

In four years he has put through a program more radical than any other President since Lincoln, and it is no secret that to many of his party leaders that program has been just as bitter medicine as the program of Lincoln was to their forebears.

The Roosevelt program, so far, has been whipped through by the scourge of the depression and by overwhelming popular demand. But now the depression is over, public opinion is more complacent, and Roosevelt has suddenly suffered a smashing, terrific defeat.

White House advisers are putting out the story that the defeat was neither significant nor important. But they are whistling in their beards. Real fact is that Roosevelt was given a crushing blow, and given it not by Republicans, but by members of his own party.

GROWING SPLIT

Those same members now face issues to which they secretly object just as vigorously as they did to the court plan—perhaps more so.

Look over the important bills earmarked for action before adjournment. They get down to the roots of traditional opposition within Roosevelt's own party.

There is the wages and hours bill, which puts the Negro of the South on the same economic plane — as far as wages go — with white labor. In the opinion of some people it completes—from the economic viewpoint—the emancipation which Lincoln started. There is potent, deep-rooted opposition to this bill on the part of many Democratic Congressmen, but it is a "must" measure on the program of their leader.

There is also the housing bill by which, for the first time, the Government reaches down into the slums with its own money and builds tenements to compete with private real estate. Not only are the real estate operators opposed, but also the agricultural areas, which get no benefit.

DODGE ROOSEVELT

All the talk about adjournment because of fatigue and hot weather is bunk. Real reason is the desire to dodge the Roosevelt program.

Hostile Democrats have tasted blood and may get away with it this time. They may even continue to get away with it. But if they do, it means the real culmination of the long-talked-of split within the Democratic Party.

Roosevelt is an adroit leader. He will soft-soap and wise-crack. He can dodge and sometimes retreat. But in this case the old Dutch is up, and you can write it down in the book that he is in for a knock-down-and-drag-out fight to the finish with the Democratic Old Guard.

RUSTLE OF SILKS

READ THIS FIRST:

Ambitious to become a dress designer, Mary Barrett accidentally meets Tony, a young man who owns a smart New York dress shop. After examining some of her sketches, he offers her a job. They see more and more of one another and begin to fall in love. During the absence of Frances Long, Tony's head buyer who dislikes Mary, the latter successfully designs some gowns for a leading actress. Something goes wrong during the fitting, and Tony publicly berates himself for letting Mary, still inexperienced, design the gown. Mary feels certain Miss Long purposely altered one of the dresses. Leaving Tony's shop without a word, Mary decides to go abroad. En route to Paris she meets Mark Sutherland, wealthy playboy.

(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

CHAPTER 9

THE NAME of Miss Mary Barrett, lately of New York, did not appear on the register at the Ritz in Paris. Nor was there any other name that stood for hers. But she knew where it was, and accordingly appeared there at a quarter to 8 on the Saturday night, two days after she had arrived in Paris. Hoping that a gentleman would not be so ungentlemanly as to arrive a quarter of an hour previous to the time of his engagement.

For while she hadn't said she would be stopping at the Ritz when she made her date with Mark Sutherland, she had implied as much.

For a reason that she didn't trouble to define, she hadn't told him that she was going to a modest pension on the Rue Richemont off the Boulevard de la Madeleine. It was there that Catherine Mayhew, who had gone to art school with her, now lived while she studied at the Sorbonne.

Kate had welcomed her with open arms, found a most amazing room for her, and still more amazing at a low cost, and installed her in what was to be her most modest home in the most beautiful city in the world. Kate had been able to give her little encouragement about getting a berth, but on this Saturday night, with the beauty of Paris already singing in her dream-filled head, Mary Barrett had no mind to worry.

Kate had introduced her to another American girl who had come to Paris to find work in one of the great dressmaking houses and after 10 months of futile search, given up. This girl—one Ellen Trent—had told Mary all there was to tell. American and Franco trade laws being what they were . . . the unemployment situation . . . the overcrowding . . . that much of what she heard took the bright bloom off her immediate hope.

But had you seen her that summer night, stepping gracefully from her facade before the entrance to the Ritz in the Place Vendôme, you would have seen nothing in her lovely face to tell her she wasn't lighthearted; that anything in her cinnamon lace gown and arched nose of coral silk to tell you that she had made every stitch herself.

This was a night that she had set apart. She had plenty of money to live in her frugal pension though there might be lean days; she had an ache in her heart and a philosophy that told her she must do gay things that she meant to do it. She believed in her star and she believed that it was her star that gave her a young, handsome millionaire to help her forget.

She saw Mark in his top hat and walked—not too quickly—toward the desk as though she had stopped there for a message. She reminded herself, with a touch of quick panic, that she had to play the role of successful designer with Mark Sutherland.

"Good evening, Mrs. Schweizer." "Good evening, Mr. MacTavish. How is Scotland Yard? And all the little Scotland Yards?" "Ravishing," he answered. "You, I mean."

"Famishing is really the word," she corrected.

"Then you shall have food. And later the last act of a revue and then into the dawn with a spot of champagne. Right?"

"Thought I'd save you taxi fare."

"Perfect." It was perfect. They had cocktails sitting at a tiny table on the promenade of the Cafe de la Paix, watching the early night fall. Then they dined at the Cafe de Paris, eating exotic foods that Mary had never tasted before.

At 11 they went on to the last act of a revue that shocked Mary beyond words, but if she had had them, she wouldn't have used them. A woman of the world wouldn't have protested and Mary Barrett was determined that she was going to be a woman of the world.

She looked it, she thought, catching sight of herself and her escort in one of the mirrored walls, and she was well pleased.

She was pleased with Mark. Mark was gay, charming, flattering. But try as she would to repress, there was something lacking within herself. She could rise to his banter, sit herself into his dancing embrace, murmur applause at all he had to show her, but it was a different person within her than the girl she had been so short a month before.

Mary didn't want to talk about herself for she felt that was trespassing on dangerous ground, but Mark's curiosity was unquenchable. She told him more than she meant to but nothing of Tony Castle. She couldn't bring herself to mention his name.

Efforts to put away the memory of his dark laughing face, the quick play of emotions on it brought quick tears to her eyes. Wakening her first morning in Paris, she had seen the bright sunlight streaming through thick lace curtains playing graciously on the faded red silk of the heavy old-fashioned furniture of her room and felt a quick lift of anticipation. But instantly, the memory of him and why she was there had swept away her momentary pleasure and she had turned her face to the pillow wishing for sleep, for forgetfulness.

A hundred times that day she had had to remind herself that she was actually in Paris, the city of her dreams. And when she did, it was only to remember that it was the width of a world away from New York. That for her, there was never to be another day to equal the springtime of her life. Those days that began with seeing Tony, answering his jovial wave.

Tony was there before her that night. Above Paris and New York the same stars gleamed brightly. The muted strings of the orchestra played strains that were being heard at the same moment in New York. The sparkling wines, so expertly selected, gave her no lift. The music fell on ears that hurt from the sweetness of the melodies. And through it all she was thinking: Perhaps Tony has been here. But I shall never be here with him.

It was not a very thorough way of putting him out of her thoughts.

It was dawn when Mark brought her back to the Ritz and left her gallantly at the lift. She smiled her good nights, murmured little things about it's all being "divine", smiled at the operator and rode to the top floor. Then she rode down again and hailed a cab to take her to her pension.

She had told Mark that she was very busy and begged him not to try to see her too often. She would ring him at his hotel, she promised.

And so she did—to keep him from telephoning her and so discovering that she did not stay at the Ritz.

She was not entirely wrong when she said she would be busy. Her days began as soon as the dressmaking shops were open. And ended only when they were closed. It took but little time for her to cover them all, and to learn the discouraging truth that there was no place for her. Hope dwindled, and with it some of her determination, but no one would have known it.

It was nearly three weeks later on a night when she was to meet Mark at the Westminster, that she came back to her modest pension to find him waiting for her in the parlor.

He grinned at her impishly. "Thought I'd save you taxi fare."

"How did you find me out?" she asked later when they were dining on chicken with tarragon in the Rue Saint-Roch.

"The first night I left you at the Ritz. Stopped outside to chat with a friend and saw you go off, heard you give your address."

"Think it was cheap?" "No, I thought it was brave."

"Then suppose you take those pretty curls down your back and tell Uncle Mark about it? I might surprise you. I might have news for you."

Bits of Summer Advice by Dr. Clendening

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.,

berth, and let nature take its course.
"NOW THAT mid-summer is here, with all its heat, many of your readers will be taking ocean voyages. Won't you please tell us something about sea sickness?"

I hope many of you do take ocean voyages this summer. Nowadays the steamers are nearly all so large that there is very little motion. The noise in ocean travel dreads seasickness and usually finds his fears were all unnecessary. Most of these travelers, if they do have seasickness at all, have it from anticipation. They have mental seasickness.

Remedies are very little good. The seasickness preventatives you buy at the drug store before you sail are a waste of money. I never knew one to do any good.

Seasickness has nothing to do with your stomach. It is due to the disturbance of the semi-circular canals in the ear, which control equilibrium. Any sudden change of position upsets these and causes vertigo and vomiting.

The best preventative of seasickness is courage—a determination to enjoy the rolling and plunging of the boat, to glory in the wind and the spray.

If that doesn't work, about the only thing to do is to go to your

Cleanliness in Camp
If you are going camping or traveling this summer, remember that you can't suddenly stough off all the rules of modern living. Fundamental rules of health can't be ignored. Germs don't take vacation.

Neither a frilled dress nor a sweaty shirt is an appropriate costume for camp life. Wash your hands before and after each meal. Dirty dishes, even if they are tin, are just as disgusting in camp as at home. Soiled bedding under the stars is no nicer than in your pink and white boudoir.

"One of the surest tests of the efficiency of a camp director is the cleanliness of his camp," says a Scout manual.

Summer Foods and Beverages
Pasteurized sweet cider is a good laxative summer drink. Apple powder is also available for dysenteries.

For babies, mother's milk now is furnished in bottles and in the form of frozen mother's milk. It can be stored for quite long periods. No form of milk compares to mother's milk for the premature infant. In Boston there is a Directory for Mother's Milk. Likewise in New York. Such institutions should be in every community.

IT'S THAT WAY EVERYWHERE

For weeks the Sunday school teacher had sought to impress upon her pupils the fact that God is everywhere. As a test question she asked, "Willie, where do you think God is this morning?"

"In our bathroom at home," was Willie's prompt and assured reply. "What on earth makes you say that?" asked the amazed teacher. "Cause," Willie's eyes shone triumphantly, "just before I left I heard papa say, 'My Lord! How long are you going to be in there?'"

"Then suppose you take those pretty curls down your back and tell Uncle Mark about it? I might surprise you. I might have news for you."

Poems That Live

"MOON, SO ROUND AND YELLOW"

Moon, so round and yellow,
Looking from on high,
How I love to see you
Shining in the sky.
Oft and oft I wonder,
When I see you there,
How they get to light you,
Hanging in the air:

Where you go at morning,
When the night is past,
And the sun comes peeping
O'er the hills at last.
Sometime I will watch you
Slyly overhead,
When you think I'm sleeping
Snuggly in my bed.

World At A Glance

It remains to be seen whether or not Democrats can be reunited by the Rooseveltian surrender on all essential issues in connection with the administration's supreme court reorganization plan.

Some "pro" and some "anti" court reorganizationists undoubtedly can shake hands with one another and be friendly again.

For example, Senator Burton K. Wheeler, as everyone knows, led the anti-reorganization fight. And Senator Pat Harrison was prominent among fighters on the other side, but everyone knows, in his case, too, that Pat's innermost heart was with the "antis". In reality, he unquestionably is glad that reorganization was licked. There is no reason why he and Burton K. should not make up, never having been in genuine disagreement on the supreme court issue.

Quite a bit of the hair-pulling, however, was mutually sincere. Can it be forgotten?

DOUBTFUL

Winners can afford to forgive and forget. So can willing losers. But how about the unqualified defeated faction? Will it admit that it is beaten?—and stay so? Or will it attempt reprisals?

It probably doesn't, itself, know which yet.

SOME INSTANCES

Illustratively, Senator Pat Mc-

Carran, one of the bitterest of supreme court reorganization's opponents, charges that the administration (specifically Postmaster General James A. Farley's organization) is fixing to prevent his re-nomination in Nevada next year.

Another "anti", Senator Frederick Van Nuys, makes a similar charge as to his state of Indiana. Senator Bennett Champ Clark, a third "anti" is said to be similarly threatened in Missouri.

All these are Democrats, and the Democratic "machine," run by Farley, the White House manager, is supposed to be against them. Does it sound like a Democratic re-harmonization?

Democratic Senator Theodore G. Bilbo openly fights Democratic Senator Pat Harrison in Mississippi. Does that sound harmonious? For that matter, Key Pittman, Democratic president pro-tem of the senate, is at odds with his Democratic colleague, Senator McCarran of Nevada.

ANOTHER SPLIT
There are only two Farmer-Labor senators on Capitol Hill.

They voted two ways on the supreme court proposition—Senator Henrik Shipstead against and Senator Ernest Lundeen (both of Minnesota) for it.

All hands are split.

The most damaging of all jobs at supreme court reorganization (the Democratic administration's pet) was dealt by Democratic Chairman Hutton W. Summers of the house of representatives' judiciary committee. Another fatal jab was dealt by Governor Herbert H. Lehman of New York—also a Democrat and once described by the president as his "strong right arm."

One of the administration's strongest supreme court supporters has been Senator Hugo L. Black of Alabama. Under the signature of ex-Representative George Huddleston of Alabama, who served a generation in the lower house of congress, I have it that he disputes Black's sincerity.

REALIGNMENT
To say that the Democrats are split up doesn't mean much.

The Republicans were equally split up when they were in a majority.

The whole lesson is that there are not two parties—Republican and Democratic. There are two (or more) parties, but they don't classify.

Republicans are Democrats. Democrats are Republicans. And there's a third group—also a fourth, maybe.

The conservatives of both parties are lining up against the liberals.

New Holland's baseball team won its first game in the American Federation series, starting in Columbus Wednesday, from the Portsmouth All-Stars, 3 to 2.

Mike Helfrich, New Holland businessman, entered his Old Hollanders in the American Federation of Semi-Pro teams early in the Spring. The team is competing now for the Ohio title.

The game was tied at 2-all until the Pickaway countians batted in the last half of the ninth frame, a run being driven over before a batter was out.

Lathey was the New Holland pitcher, giving seven hits, fanning seven and walking three batters. In the New Holland lineup were G. Briggs, 2b; Brown, ss; Walker, 3b; Vause, lf; Orihood, c; Bryant, rf; Lawrence, cf; Funk, 1b; Lathey, p.

The New Holland crew was scheduled to meet the Wehrle Stoves, of Newark, Thursday afternoon. The Newark crew won its first game, 20-5, from the Columbus Model dairy.

Chicago Cubs beat Brooklyn, 7-5, and held their 3-game lead in the National League race. Demaree hit a homer and two singles for a perfect day, "3 for 3," and drove in three runs.

Staging a 5-run rally in the eighth the Giants pounded Lon Warneke to cover and beat the Cardinals, 8-4. Cliff Melton got off to a bad start, allowing three runs in the first inning, but settled down and held the Cards at bay after that to win his 11th game. Ott and Berger hit homers for the Giants. The Giants made 15 hits, with Ott, and Danning getting three each.

Cincinnati moved into sixth place ahead of Brooklyn by defeating the Boston Bees, 6-1. Peaches Davis held the Bees to 9 hits, with Gene Moore getting 4 of them for a perfect day at bat. Alex Kampouris hit a homer for the Reds. Pittsburgh beat out the Phillies, 6-4. Pep Young hit a homer and drove in three runs. ## About This And That In Many Sports

Turf World Hunts Champ Yearlings Recall Names Full Brother of Sun Beau

Names of great race horses of other days will respond at Saratoga, Aug. 3 to 20, when hundreds of baby colts and fillies will begin their turf careers. The annual yearling sales at the picturesque Spa are one of the most colorful pictures that sport has to offer—and one of the biggest gambles.

At Saratoga the buyer may get a well-bred colt that never will win a race, or pick up a colt that will become a champion. Man O'War went to the yearling sales 20 years ago and brought $5,000. A few years later one of his sons, War Feathers, sold for $100,000 and couldn't beat the milk man on his route.

The largest consignment is sent by Willis Sharpe Kilmer, whose Court Manor Stud is one of the show places of Virginia (near Newmarket). Fifty-three yearlings are in the group, 15 of them sired by the great Sun Beau, champion money winner of all time. Sun Beau retired from the track six years ago, and already 26 of his sons and daughters have been to the races, making a creditable showing. There is sure to be excitement on the nights of Aug. 9 and 13, when Sun Beau's progeny march proudly into the auction ring.

One of the Kilmer yearlings is a full brother of Sun Beau, a dark bay colt, by Sun Briar-Beautiful Lady, by Fair Play, according to catalog. What will this unnamed bay colt, with the same pedigree as the turf's greatest money winner, draw in the way of bids? And how close will he come to duplicating his illustrious brother's reputation?

Other royal names of the turf will be heard in the auction ring. Mereworth Stud is offering a full brother to Discovery, a chestnut by Display-Ardane, by Light Brigade. Grand Time's first crop of yearlings will be offered by Mrs. David Buckley, of High Acres Farm, near The Plains, Va. J. R. Neville of Cincinnati sends a "great colt bred like Pompoon," a bay son of Pompey-Ohone, by Polymellan.

Leading sire of the year in the number of successful runners on the tracks is The Porter. Naturally The Porter's sons and daughters will be scanned closely. Through 1936, The Porter's get had won $1,125,716. When a chestnut colt by The Porter-La Morlaye, by Peter Pan, enters the ring, horsemen may be expected to perk up their ears and listen.

Old Grover Hartley, former Indians' catcher, is managing the Findlay team in the Ohio State league... he pinch hit the other day against a southpaw who had a no-hit game in prospect going into the ninth inning... and dropped a single over third... Branch Rickey says Johnny Hopp, Rochester outfielder, will not be sold... "Not even for $100,000"... Johnny Riddle, the catcher Clark Griffith sent back to Indianapolis with a sore arm, is hitting around .400 and throwing well enough to attract major league scouts.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

REMEMBER THE BIDDING CARD MEMORIES are amazing things. They range from the remarkable kind which can recall every incident of hands played many years ago to those which cannot even remember the bidding of the current deal long enough to have it serve as a guide to play. The lackadaisical person, who knows what the final contract is, but forgets how it was reached, is hardly worthy of the title of "bridge player".

Here North bid 1-Heart, East passed, South bid 2-Diamonds, North 2-Hearts, South 2-No Trumps and North 3-No Trumps. West opened with the spade K and continued with the J and Q, the latter being won by South with the Ace. The heart 10 was now finessed and lost to East's J. A diamond was returned, which South won with the Ace. He then ran the remaining hearts.

East was obliged to make two discards on the heart leads and decided to protect his clubs and let go the diamonds. When this was done it was very simple for South to make what should have been an impossible contract, for he was able to cash four diamonds, four hearts and the spade Ace.

East should have realized from South's diamond bid that that was one suit he alone could guard. He should have held on to the diamonds and disregarded the clubs, for if South held the club Ace nothing could prevent him from making game, whereas if West held the club Ace and East held on to the diamonds, it would have been impossible for South to cash nine tricks.

SERVICE DEPARTMENT AIMS AT CIRCLEVILLE STREET REPAIR

WORKERS AWAIT SUPPLIES AND W.P.A. APPROVAL

Blanket of Oil Planned for Most Unimproved Traffic Lanes in City

MAVIS OUTLINES PLANS

Improvement Program to Be Carried Out First In South End

The city service department, headed by J. F. "Jack" Mavis, is making every effort to correct the bad condition of Circleville's streets, and does not plan to halt its work until all roadways have been placed in condition for comfortable travel.

The department has been delayed by failure of oil to arrive as scheduled, and by lack of speed in completion of plans for a blanket W. P. A. project which would include practically all of Circleville's unimproved streets. Closures, now much too high for safety, will be cut down, streets will be top-dressed, and others will be oiled if and when the necessary supplies are received and engineers working on the W. P. A. project complete their task.

Mavis has Franklin street east of Mingo, Union street east of Clinton, Walnut east of Washington, Clinton from the Norfolk and Western track to Walnut street, and Logan street east from Washington street to the end ready for oil. This shipment is due to arrive late this week and will be applied at once.

"Many of the streets are ready for top dressing," the service chief said, "but we are short of funds for all the work we would like and should do. If this blanket W. P. A. project goes through, and I believe it will when complete plans are submitted, we can make rapid strides toward a greatly improved condition."

Mavis plans to keep his employees in the south end of the city until all possible work in that part of the city is completed. "There is no use jumping from one part of the town to the other," he declared. "When we are through in the south end, we will move into the north end including the new addition, to do everything we can."

Some of the north end streets are almost impassable at times, the service director said lamenting that gutters on several of the streets are higher than the roadways. He plans to correct this condition.

"Residents of the north end, especially in the Montclair-Beverly road-Guilford road section, have been very patient," Mavis said, "and we want to do as much as we can and as soon as we can to end their trouble."

N. Pickaway street, recently torn up for a sewer project, will get some attention, too, this fall, according to Mavis's plans.

FIRES ATTACKED IN PITTSBURGH'S OLD COAL MINES

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Workmen have resumed their battle against stubborn fires that have raged out of control for several years through the tunnels of abandoned coal mines under metropolitan Pittsburgh.

More than 400 WPA employees have been assigned to fire-fighting duty for the next few weeks in an effort to check the flames which have long been recognized as a serious threat to surface property. Buildings have been damaged in some instances where the undermined top-soil collapsed around their foundations. In other cases the flames have eaten their way through the surface to become an even greater hazard to the neighborhood.

WPA men will concentrate their new efforts on four separate underground fires. One of the four has spread beneath property near the University of Pittsburgh's stadium in Oakland.

Most of the fire-fighting work will consist of the blocking off of mine entries and filling operations. Cost of the project is estimated at $73,392.

KING FAROUK I IS ENTHRONED

Banquets, receptions and a radio broadcast to the nation will complete the day's activities for the athletic youth who becomes ruler over 14,000,000 persons and Egypt's most powerful monarch since the Mameluke kings were crushed by the Ottoman empire 400 years ago.

Reaches Legal Age
King Farouk I was born, according to the modern calendar, on Feb. 11, 1920. But under the Moslem calendar he became 18 today—the constitutional minimum age for an Egyptian king. He has been king in name, however, since the death of his father, King Fuad I, on April 28, 1936.

The king's position is made powerful because of the Anglo-Egyptian treaty which freed Egypt last year from British control. The treaty established a military alliance between the two nations, provided for membership of Egypt in the League of Nations and ordered the withdrawal of all British troops from Egypt to the Suez canal. All foreign capitulation were abolished this year, and the League accepted Egypt into the family of nations.

Farouk brings to the throne experience gained from his travels abroad—he returned only four days from a spring tour of Switzerland, France, England and several other countries. Egypt has high hopes for him. His responsibilities are greater than his father's, because Egypt now has become mistress of her own fate.

The king was reared in the palace harem, educated in Arabic, French and English and trained in boxing, horsemanship, polo, hockey and tennis. He drove his own small car through the streets last Tuesday, drawing a tumultuous ovation from the crowds already gathering for his coronation.

Jim Burns and son and Miss Leah Anna Lutz of Oakland, Mr. and Mrs. August Wynkoop and family this city, were the dinner guests of Mrs. Peter Wynkoop Sunday.

Mrs. Roy Harden left Saturday for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Courtwright of Benton Harbor, Mich.

PENSION OFFICE TO BE MOVED

A letter sent to Auditor Forrester by Walter Garrison, Columbus, deputy supervisor of the bureau of inspection and supervision of public offices, takes the commissioners to task for expending money to help pay expenses of the Old Age pension office. Auditor Short wrote the division last Saturday for an opinion.

County Not Obligated
Ever since the pension office was opened the county has paid its office rent and shared its light bill. Bills paid this week amounted to $14 for rent of the furnished office and $1.40 as half of the electric light bill.

Garrison wrote Short that the Old Age pension system is entirely a state program, and that no county has authority to spend money for its office expense. "A circular sent to all commissioners of Ohio June 29, 1934 specified that counties could make no expenditures on behalf of the Old Age pension administration," Garrison informed the auditor.

Commissioner May said Thursday that a room in the addition directly below that to be used by the recorder's office has been set aside for the Old Age office. It will adjoint that provided for the Board of Elections.

All county offices now occupying rooms outside the courthouse will be assigned to the addition when it is completed. Included among these will be the prosecuting attorney, board of education, board of health, and board of elections.

DRIVER DRAWS FINE
Herbert Southward, 119 Park View, Circleville, arrested Tuesday by State Highway Patrolman H. R. Curtis on a charge of driving a dealer's car with only one license plate paid $5 and costs to Justice of the Peace H. O. Evland. He was released.

COUNTY GAINS NOTHING FROM $1,300,000 MELON

Pickaway county will not receive any money in a $1,300,000 relief distribution to be made prior to Dec. 31 by M. Ray Allison, state finance director. Allison announced Thursday that more than a million is due 50 Ohio counties under unpaid allocations made in 1936. Pickaway has not had any direct relief money from the state for a long while, its relief load being handled through other funds.

Counties with money due them will be permitted to borrow to extend relief operations.

CITY BLAZES AS WAR RAGES

plained bitterly that the army refused to aid them.

Chinese Inflamed
The Chinese, inflamed with hatred against the Japanese, attacked in all parts of the city except the guarded foreign concessions, where troops were on the alert behind sandbag barricades.

Japanese planes roared overhead, bombing the Chinese quarter, but their aim seemed none to good and it was feared the foreigners were in danger.

The Chinese fighters are northeners and the central government at Nanking has not yet sent its regulars into action. However, word came from Tokyo that War Minister Hajime Sugiyama had expressed fear in the diet that a clash might be impending.

At the same time, Chinese sources in Shanghai spoke of the danger of a break in diplomatic relations, leading to a formal state of war.

Tientsin Isolated
Otherwise, Tientsin was isolated with Japanese conquest inevitable unless the Chinese quit. Peiping, to the north, where the entire trouble started, was subdued. The pro-Japanese General Chang Tze-chung was in control and the Chinese troops who had resisted the Japanese were fleeing.

The Tientsin Chinese were not aware of the full gravity of the position and surged in fury against the Japanese.

The Pribilof islands of Alaska, which cost the U. S. government less than one thousand dollars, have furnished more than $15,000,000 in seal skins.
